

Celtics Derrick Favors selected for 2009 Jordan Brand All-American

The Atlanta Celtics, which is the #1 summer basketball program in the nation and the Southeast Regional Directors for Adidas Grassroots Basketball would like to send congratulations to Derrick Favors as being the ONLY player from the state of Georgia selected to the NIKE Jordan Brand Classic All-Star game.

No need to talk, our reputation precedes us, longevity and actions speak louder than words. Aside from the fact that we have had four first round NBA draft picks out of the last 5 years and that our kids are featured in Sports Illustrated, Slam, Dime, USA Today, and various other media outlets and receive national television exposure though FOX Sports documentaries and a spotlight on CNN. What we are most proud of is that each of our kids received a qualifying SAT score to attend college because we stress that you have to be successful in academics and athletics and provide the necessary mean to achieve that.

Look at where they landed:

2008 Class
Howard Thompkins- Georgia	Ebuka Anayora- Georgia
Chris Singleton- Florida State	Pierre Jordan- Florida State
Delwan Graham- LSU	Dennis Harris- LSU
Andre Cornelius- George Mason	Gideon Gamble- Winthrop
Jamal Day- SC State
2009 Class
Derrick Favors- GA Tech	Noel Johnson- Southern Cal
Terrence Shannon- Florida State	Andre Malone- Auburn
Robert Chubb- Auburn	Manny Atkins- Virginia Tech
Brian Cole- UNC Greensboro	